"The Spirit of '76" was the spirit of independence and freedom. Let this spirit take possession of you to-day. Be independent, knowing that your savings are safely deposited in the Church Hill Bank. Just across the street is the old church where Patrick Henry made the famous "Give me liberty or give me death" speech. Come to see this historic spot to-morrow, and on your way stop by and open an account with us, taking your first step in the pathway of independence.

The Spirit of Freedom and Liberty is thoroughly embodied in the rich soil of historic Albemarle county. High up on the Mount of Monticello, which overlooks the broad green acres of Virginia's fairest county, Thomas Jefferson lived and thought the ideal principles incorporated in his draft of our Constitution. America has profited by the thought engendered in the son of such a county.

You will make no mistake in purchasing land in Albemarle county. It is rich—almost virgin—soil. Through the county run a network of unsurpassable roads, which foster a spirit of generous hospitality in Albemarle's people. The climate is good and the water excellent, and
